

Anuj Magazine

Anuj Magazine
Director
Citrix Systems

Anuj Magazine is a software testing and general management professional at Citrix Inc. Anuj likes to explore new avenues/sciences and their intersections with software engineering and is working towards the vision of helping software engineering profession reach newer heights by leveraging intersections from various fields. He regularly share his knowledge and experiences as a conference speaker and writes frequently on diverse topics like software testing, management, sports, and handwriting analysis.

Currently he is involved in heading a group that engineers Globalization into all the Citrix products and focuses primarily on Automation, Globalization Testing and Localization Engineering. The role primarily focuses on Strategic aspect of the work including Leading various organization wide initiatives.