

Anuradha A

Anuradha A
Head of Global
Testing Practice
Virtusa

Anuradha heads the Global testing practice at Virtusa, responsible for Strategy, Planning, Business development and Delivery across Global centers., helping clients actively in their testing transformation journey. Prior to that she worked in Capgemini, where she was heading the India Testing Practice setting up large testing programs and before that with Infosys as a Practice Manager, managing globally a large testing portfolio spread across multiple locations and clients in Manufacturing, Energy Utilities and High Tech Sectors, Anuradha has 22+ Yrs of overall industry experience, all through in Testing in various Product and service companies. She has actively driven creation of diverse capabilities within Practices, incubating strategic testing offerings for BI, Cloud, Mobile Apps, smart metering and several domain based testing solutions among others. She has donned a variety of technical and leadership roles from managing large test transformation program delivery, setting up TCOEs, Architecting testing solutions, Test maturity Assessments etc.

Anuradha has been actively involved in various Industry forums and has been delivering talks to evangelize Independent Testing as a rewarding career. She has authored multiple whitepapers on Process Improvement, Adopting Test Automation and product evaluation strategies.

As a leader, her passion is for Testing and to interact with customers to build solutions that are intuitive, addressing their challenges. She also loves to mentor people and believes in creating winning teams.